

MY Apoise

To whom it may concern !

The Lurssen motor yacht Apoise arrived in Gibraltar today = May 20 '11.
Last month we had the product ZYTEXX put onto the hull sides of the vessel.
At that time the hull paint was in such bad shape from continued generator exhaust problems and exposure that the remaining paint was almost non-existent ! The ZYTEXX crew cut back the paint (and embedded exhaust stains) and applied their product !

Hmmmm = every 2 years or so along comes a new fangled, wiz-bang super product that will do everything. Super polymers - xycrone encrusted polish, etc. Never seems to hold up to their claims.

We just finished washing the hull here after a long Atlantic crossing = with fresh water and a light boat soap solution to keep the soft brush head clean!
It all rinsed right off = we were bright white, crew that knew the boat thought we had it painted!
I'm impressed, the mate loves the stuff. The deckhands think it's great! Tough crowd to impress.

SO - finally, something has come along that actually does work!
Last time this happened it was that guy with rubber wheels that said he was going to fill them with air of all things !

Thanks Guys,

Guy O'Connor
